

Seminar

Modern Ion Analysis by Metrohm

You are invited

Metrohm New Zealand has the pleasure of inviting you to our seminar on Modern Ion Analysis. Start your year by levelling up your skills in Ion Chromatography! Metrohm will be conducting a technical seminar on Ion Chromatography where you will learn and experience handling the most advanced IC instruments available in the market. Applications for different industries will be discussed as well as how convenient and efficient our instruments are for a wide range of application.

Do not miss out on the opportunity to open up to Metrohm's experts regarding queries or questions on your ion analysis application and IC operation.

Registration is free but there are limited slots available to participate in this event, so hurry and register through the link.
